Current situation

I am writing a PhD dissertation in History and Philosophy of Science at University Paris 7 Diderot, under the direction of Karine Chemla (SPHERE) and Shirley Carter-Thomas (LATTICE). The topic is the impact of the uses of computers on the methods and narratives of medieval history between 1960 and 1990, in France, Italy and Germany. My methods are borrowed both from linguistic and history and philosophy of science.
