

Contents

Foreword

Don Kalb

List of Tables

Acknowledgments

Introduction

PART I: SOCIALIST PRIMITIVE ACCUMULATION IN CLUJ

Chapter 1. Productive State Apparatuses: Taking Over the Factories, 1944-1948

Chapter 2. “More Precious Than Gold”: Labour Instability and the Stickyness of Everyday Life

Chapter 3. “Workers”, “Proletarians”, and the Struggle for Cheap Labour

PART II: TIME AND ACCUMULATION ON THE SHOPFLOOR

Chapter 4. “Hidden Reserves of Productivity” and the Quest for Knowledge

Chapter 5. Productive Flows and Factory Discipline

Chapter 6. Planned Heroism and Nonsynchronicity on the Shopfloor

Epilogue: Really Existing Socialism as Nonsynchronicity

References

Index